

Pappas Telecasting Companies' "donation" of $325,000 in airtime to Republican candidates in certain areas is not in the public interest. Pappas uses the public airwaves free of charge and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Their actions show why we need to strength media ownership rules , not weakened them. According to Pappas they have reviewed these contributions with the FCC, and they say you have approved them. If so, this is another example of poor leadership in monitoring our public airways. If not, may I suggest to fine them $750000, the same as a single breast. At the same time, I would review and monitor all their stations to ensure they maintain their public trust. Thank you
